“Yankee Doodle Dandy” Is Actually An Anti-Gay British Fight Song! Happy Independence Day!!!

As we celebrate the Fourth of July, we remember that gays and lesbians have been a part of American history from the beginning. Baron Friedrich Wilhelm von Steuben, who fled sodomy charges in Prussia, was an integral member of the Continental Army, training the troops and serving as General Washington’s chief of staff.

Some historical notes, though, are less inspiring . . . take the patriotic ditty “Yankee Doodle Dandy.” Most of us know it as a silly childre’s song used to teach about the War of Independence. But David Segal, in The New York Times revealed its much more insidious origins.

George M. Cohan popularized the tune with his adaptation, “The Yankee Doodle Boy,” from the 1904 musical Little Johnny Jones. But the original “Yankee Doodle” was sung by British troops during the Revolutionary War to suggest American soldiers were, in Segal’s words, “gay and bumbling.”

It's a play on the word "dandy," referring to a fop or self-absorbed, overly stylish man. The "macaroni" mentioned in the chorus isn't pasta, but rather 18th century slang for the British dandies who eschewed English drabness in favor of European flair . . . cinched waistcoats, tall white wigs, slippers, and colorful stockings.

In another time, they might have been drag queens.

"Such a figure, essenced and perfumed, with a bunch of lace sticking out under its chin, puzzles the common passenger to determine the thing's sex," Town and Country declared of the macaronis in 1772. "And many a time an honest laboring porter has said, "By your leave, madame," without intending to give offense."

Assumptions about the macaronis' sexuality was widespread: After the arrests of Captain Robert Jones on sodomy charges, the Public Ledger declared the country is over-run with Catamites, with monsters of Captain Jones's taste, or, to speak in a language which all may understand, with MACCARONIES."

Segal reveals, "Yankee Doodle Dandy" was actually the most popular British rallying chant of its day. A "yankee," of course, is a derogatory term for an American. A "doodle," now meaning a worthless drawing, referred to a fool or patsy. And a dandy was well, a dandy.

So, essentially, the colonists were stupid faggots. Only they couldn't even do that right.

Here's the clincher: The doodle can't pull it off. He thinks that sticking a feather in his cap will suffice to join Britain's most effete club. In reality, he needs an elaborate costume.

The subtext . . . actually, it might just be the text . . . is that this quintessential American is a homosexual so daft that he can't even demonstrate his homosexuality.

The delicious irony is that, as the colonists began to win the war, they embraced "Yankee Doodle Dandy" as their own. After the Battle of Saratoga, an English officer reported hearing American troops singing the song in victory.

"Yankee Doodle" is now their paeon, a favorite of favorites, played in their army . . . It is the lover's spell, the nurse's lullaby," he wrote. "It was not a little mortifying to hear them play this tune, when their army marched down to our surrender."

The point, says Segal, is not to stop singing "Yankee Doodle." It's to realize that reappropriating slurs is as American as apple pie. (Sometimes the LGBT community knows a little something about.)

Reappropriation is an American specialty . . . a rhetorical stratagem practiced even before the Declaration of Independence was signed. So by singing "Yankee Doodle," you're not just celebrating the country's birth. You are belting out words used by the soldiers who made that birth possible, and with a taunt that boomeranged for the ages.

OVER-EASY BREAKFAST

Reporter-At-Large: Jim Mickel

There were 14 Prime Timers present at our June
Over-Easy Breakfast. One table of 8, the other table of 6 and what a great group.

After a postponement from last month we finally made it to the Perfect Landing at the Centennial Airport. Great restaurant and even greater food.

For once, there seemed to be a large number of planes on the tarmac, but not much activity.
Guess Saturdays aren't their busy day.

Getting there was really fast as traffic seemed to flow very well for a change.

It's always nice to see our 'usual breakfast group' each month. It's always a nice time for all of us.
Thanks, Darrel, keep up the good work.

"CANASTA CARD CLUB"

12 Prime Timers played cards at Paul Hubble's house and it was the 'usual group' plus our new member George Pitteruff who fit right in. 2 tables of six players, four at the other. Nice when people make themselves at home.

Lots of gabbing which is always good to catch up on gossip. We played inside this time since last time the wind kept blowing the cards away on the patio.

Of course, lots of munchies and also the Kringle
Don Ross had sent from Racine. A very good Danish pastry. Sure didn't take long and it was all gone.

Our next card game will be played at Joe Rotello's home in Arvada next month (July).

COLORADO PRIME TIMER BUTTONS

Colorado Prime Timer buttons with the new logo are available for sale at $.50 each. They are 3 inches and pin back buttons and very colorful. You want to wear them at Prime Timer functions such as beer busts, Sunday brunch, PrideFest, etc. They are available from Dick Moore at lunch only.

MINUTES OF THE JUNE 6TH BOARD MEETING

Secretary: Rick Knoll

The meeting was called to order by President, Dick Moore at 1:05 pm. Board members present were Dick Moore, Rafael De Jesus, Rick Knoll, Larry Nelson, Larry Jeffries, Joe Saman, and Bob McSherry and one visitor, Geof Jones.

Vice President, Rafael De Jesus said he did not have too much to report on other than encouraging a few more of our members to show up at The Trade when we are sponsoring the Sunday brunch and movie. That is the second Sunday of every month. It all starts at about 11:00 o'clock. Also, the Beer Busts.

Bob McSherry, Board Member-At-Large said he has made contact with an old friend from Ft. Morgan who has recently moved to Denver and he may be interested in joining Prime Timers. Good for you, Bob.

Treasurer, Larry Nelson had a good report and said that we are just about "right on" for our budget for 2018. A 1st was made by Larry J. and a 2nd by Joe to accept the report and it was agreed upon by the rest of the board. (See page 2 for balance)

Larry Jeffries, Membership Chairman reported that we have a membership of 173 right now. Two have not paid for May and seven have not yet paid for June but it is still early in the month so that will probably change. There were three visitors at lunch today that expressed interest in joining. A 1st was made by Rafael and 2nd was made by Larry Nelson and all board members agreed to accept the report.

Joe Saman, Activities Coordinator, said that he is having no problems with the Activities scheduling. There are lots of sign-up sheets on the table in the back of the dining room and it sounds like there are going to be quite a few more to come. Remember to check them out each week.

Dick reported that our next big Beer Bust at The Trade will be during the Labor Day weekend, Saturday Sept. 1st. It will probably be a big one as the Wrangler has been sold and is closing before then. We will keep you informed as to how many volunteers we will need.

Dick has sold about 16 of those large buttons with the Prime Timers Logo on them. If you want one, talk to Dick. They are 50 cents each. Great for when you are working PrideFest, Beer Busts, etc.

Dick announced that he is going to be retiring from the board at the end of the year. He has been president for 15 years and we are going to miss him. He has done a lot for this club. Of course that means that we are going to be looking for a new President, also someone to take over the Editor of the Newsletter, and someone new to handle the work for PrideFest next year. It doesn't have to be all "One Person". I don't know how he has done all of that plus work a full time job. Start giving it some thought.

Also retiring at the end of the year; Rick Knoll, Secretary, Larry Jeffries, Membership Chairman, and Joe Saman will leave the Board but remain as Activity Coordinator.

It was a unusually short meeting and we adjourned at 1:45. The next meeting will be on Wednesday, July 4th.

SPECIAL NOTICE

Starting in August, the Minutes of the Board Meeting will be found on the Colorado Prime Timer website. Hard copies will be available at Wed. luncheon.

NEWS FROM THE CENTER

Submitted by Ron DeVries

On May 18th, details were finalized for the continuation of the Healthcare Enrollment Assistance Program at the GLBT Community Center of Colorado (The Center). This program has been supported primarily through a grant from Connect for Health Colorado, Colorado's Affordable Care Act Marketplace, since 2013, when the market place was first available.

The Healthcare Enrollment Assistance Program is part of the Connect for Health Colorado Assistance Network, which assists Coloradoans navigate the complexities of the system and the websites used for enrollment. The assistance network certifies Health Coverage Guides (HCGs), like our own Ron DeVries, to provide guidance not only through the process associated with enrollment, but to provide support to clients by helping them determine the right level of benefits they need from their health plan. This program also allows clients to enroll in Health First Colorado (Colorado's Medicaid program) and Child Health Plan Plus (CHP+); two vital programs for low-income people.

While funding for the program has declined annually, The Center was able to secure funding at the current level for two additional years.

Unfortunately, the grant does not fully fund the Healthcare Enrollment Assistance Program, and a portion of funding is required through The Center's general fund. Please remember The Center in your annual giving, to support vital community programs like the Healthcare Enrollment Assistance Program.

ANNUAL MOUNTAIN PICNIC IS IN THE PLANNING STAGES.

Coordinator: Dick Moore

I am shooting for Saturday, August 25th, (weather permitting). Once again it will be a potluck with the chapter paying for drink, and entree.

Location of course, will be somewhere in the mountains. Yet to be determined.

A sign up sheet will be available sometime in July as will the location.

Dick Moore, President

Let Me Finish

People Who Think Gay People Are Born That Way Support Gay Rights. Why?

A recent Gallup Poll found that 50% of Americans believe that being gay or lesbian is "something a person is born with."

30% believe being gay is "due to factors such as upbringing and environment," and another 10% said "both." 40% said "neither" and 6% "didn't know."

There isn't a scientific consensus on the origins of sexual orientation, so the fact that almost everyone in the U.S. has an opinion on it is pretty strange.

Rather, it would be strange . . . if people took the question as a scientific one and answered based on their unbiased judgement of current research. If they did, it would be surprising that so few people believe sexuality is set by factors in the womb, which are both innate and environmental (the womb is an environment).

But that's not what the question is. In the Gallup Poll, 88% of people who said that homosexuality is innate support marriage equality, but only 38% of people who believe homosexuality is caused by environmental factors do.

Looking at results for these questions going back to 1996, the percentages answering "born that way" and supporting marriage equality have a very high correlation.

Both questions stayed close to each other until 2010. After that, support for marriage equality grew a little faster than people saying that homosexuality is innate.

Now, correlation isn't causation. There isn't evidence that people's belief that people are born gay (the Gallup Poll question just refers to gays and lesbians) made them support marriage equality.

The causation could be the other way around . . . people base their beliefs on the origins of sexuality on their position on marriage equality, as a way to justify it after the fact.

Or they might both be proxies for how much someone likes gay people.

Saying that homosexuality is innate can only be understood in the context of a culture that spreads a lot of energy shaming people about their sexual desire for no reason other than the aesthetic preferences of those who have power, and a society where ideas like "innate," "genetic," "no one's fault" and "immutable" often get mixed up.

Saying homosexuality is innate could just be another way of say that sexual orientation is an integral part of one's identity . . . another axis of human diversity . . . not a sin or a mistake.

Have a safe and fun 4th of July.
