THE LAVENDER SCARE!

How the federal government purged gay employees.

You may have heard of the “Red Scare” of the 1950s . . . the fear stoked by Republican Senator Joseph McCarthy that Communists had infested the federal government. Accused State Department employees would be interviewed for the purpose of acquiring information concerning others. “That was the technique that was used by the government: grab one person, and then get that person to inform on other people,” said filmmaker, Josh Howard.

But a panic of a different shade led to a much wider purge of gay employees. “Homosexuals must not be handling top-secret material,” McCarthy said. “The pervert is easy prey to the blackmailer.”

The panic long outlasted McCarthy’s tenure.

David K. Johnson is the author of the definitive history of what’s come to be known as the “Lavender Scare.” He defined it as “a fear that permeated Cold War political culture, this fear that gay people were a threat to national security, that they had infiltrated the federal government, and that they needed to be systematically removed from government service.”

The rooting-out of homosexual employees became official policy with an executive order signed by newly-elected President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1953.

“This is a guy who understood firsthand a real threat,” said correspondent Mo Rocca. “I mean, he’s the Supreme Allied Commander in World War II, so you would think he would understand a real threat.”

“Well, I think he did,” said Johnson. “I think he probably didn’t see this as a real threat, but he saw that it won elections.”

“That it was expedient, politically?”

“It was part of their campaign, right. ‘Let’s clean house.’ Let’s get rid of all these people.”

The Lavender Scare happened in private. The people who were being fired didn't want to tell their friends and relatives why they had been fired, because they wanted to stay in the closet."

"If you were found out to be gay in those years, your life was essentially over. You were shunned by society. You were shunned in the workplace. It's the reason people were in the closet in the 1950s."

Even in private homes, gay people were not safe from investigators.

Bob Cantillion, a Navy serviceman, was told to report to the police station for interrogation. He recalled in a documentary, "At Christmastime, some friends were having a party. Somebody must have tipped them off that there was a party where gay people were going to be. I freely admitted that I was gay. And then they said, 'We also want five names of other people you know.' So, I searched my mind and I gave them the names of five people I thought would be least hurt. My impression was that after I named the five names, they'd let me go and nothing else would happen after that. But then we were all discharged."

Other stories ended in the worst possible way. Drew Ference, the son of immigrants spoke five languages and was serving in the U.S. Embassy in Paris when investigators confronted him with evidence that he was gay. Shortly after confessing, he killed himself.

"No one was defending gay people," said Howard. "The Democrats stayed away from this issue. At the time, the ACLU believed it was perfectly legitimate for the government to fire homosexuals as a threat to national security."

The prosecution of homosexual public servants gave rise to the gay rights movement in the pugnacious person of Frank Kamey, a PhD. from Harvard and astronomer with the U.S. Army Map Service. He was fired in 1957 for being gay. He was the first person to fight back out of all those large number of people who were fired in the 1950s.

Kamey says that "this is not about national security, it's not even about morality. It's about civil rights.' He calls himself and colleagues in the group 'homosexual American citizens,' and that you can't forget either part of that.

In 1963, he became the first openly gay person to testify on Capitol Hill.

Then in 1965, he organized picket lines in front of the State Department and the White House. He told CBS News then, "Every American citizen has the right to be considered by the government on the basis of his own person merits as an individual."

"Those folks were very courageous, it had never been done before, and they were scared to death."

But the discriminatory policy continued. In 1980 Janie Shoemaker worked for the National Security Agency as a linguist. When asked what kind of security clearance he had, Shoemaker said, "Very high. Probably more than the president has, actually. You might be surprised."

One day his supervisor told him that security wanted to question him: "And the first thing they said was, 'Mr. Shoemaker, we understand you're leading a gay lifestyle.' And he said, well, I didn't think I was leading it, but he said, 'Yes, I am.' And immediately they took his badge off. And read his rights."

In 1995, after 42 years, the last vestiges of Eisenhower's executive order were finally overturned, when President Bill Clinton signed an executive order rescinding the policy.

How many gay federal employees actually spied for foreign governments?

There was not a single example of a gay man or lesbian who ever submitted to blackmail by a foreign agent, not a single one.

Young people are growing up in a more tolerant society, let's hope that they understand that equality is not a given, that there are people who fought and sacrificed for those accomplishments.

NIGHT ON THE TOWN

Submitted by Charles McDonald

Left to right: Rick Knoll, Unknown, Bill Pearse, Ron Gloekler, Charles McDonald and Norm Leonhardt.

Night On The Town, Tuesday night, July 2nd was a nice evening with a small but great group of Prime Timers at the Empress Seafood Restaurant. Everyone enjoyed the atmosphere and the food, the service was excellent, everyone had a great time. Looking forward to the next Night On The Town in September. Thanks, Chef Charles.

HAND, KNEE, FOOT CARDS

Jim Mickel: Reporter-At-Large

Joe Rotello hosted our July Canasta Card Club. Eleven Prime Timers sign up and one didn't make it. A phone call would have been nice! We had two tables of four. After one hand, one table decided to play canasta. Worked out well.

Joe set up everything in his basement, convenient, good lighting and was cool. I would like to make a small comment, 'as oldsters, all were happy to see a life saving banister in the stairway. Banisters have become "best friends" to some of us'.

We had a good amount of sweets this time. We also did get a chance to have some conversations this time, that is always fun.

Look forward to the August gathering at Mike Brascia's house, August 12th.

OVER-EASY BREAKFAST

Jim Mickel: Reporter-At-Large

On Saturday, July 13th, 10 Prime Timers drove up Bear Creek Canyon to Kittridge for our monthly breakfast gathering. It was easy to visit and there was little to none noise to compete with.

I didn't hear any grumbling about the food, as my meal was excellent. Waitress was excellent.

There was: Ron Gloekler, Darrel Freeland, Don Harvey, Jim Mickel, Zac Scott, Jim Parks, Larry Jeffries, Mike Brascia, Paul Hubble and Rick Knoll. Most of them car pooled, which is a lot easier.

A great breakfast group, with lots of conversation.

Thank you, Darell, it was a very nice breakfast event. Hope to see everyone next month.

MINUTES OF THE JULY 3rd BOARD MEETING

Toby Davis: Secretary

The meeting was called to order 12:30 pm by president Dick Moore.

There were no visitors present.

Present were; Dick Moore, president; Rafael de Jesus, vice president; Toby Davis, secretary; Larry Nelson, treasurer; Larry Jeffries, Membership Director; Charles McDonald, Director of Special Events was absent.

OLD BUSINESS

Minutes of the June 5th meeting were handed out to all board members. Larry Jeffries made a motion that the minutes be accepted, Larry Nelson made a second and the minutes were unanimously approved by the whole board.

June treasury report was given by Larry Nelson. (see page 3 of this Newsletter).

We did quite well for PrideFest, receiving $1900.00 for our volunteer work in the vendor booth. Also, $482.38 in tips.

Rafael made the motion that the Financial Report for June be accepted. Larry Nelson, made a second and it was unanimously accepted by the board.

Rafael had no comments but said he was looking forward to attending the Worldwide Convention in San Antonio later this year.

NEW BUSINESS

Luncheon attendance and tips given for June was handed out. Attendance for June was 206, last year was 217.

A lengthy discussion about the use of the Colorado Prime Timer booth at PrideFest. The cost of the booth space was $355.00 paid to The Center. The canopy was $220.00. 3 folding chairs $6.00, 2, 6 foot folding tables, $28.00, tax $21.11 for a total of $630.11.

The discussion was should we keep doing this, cancel the booth since we don't receive anything back such as new members or as Dick suggested that we use the tent, table and chairs that we have in storage which would cost nothing except the cost of the booth space with The Center. It was suggested along with the applications, handouts, pens and newsletters that we give other items away at the booth.

It was decided to further this discussion when Charles McDonald returns for the next board meeting.

Dick had the last word and that last word was that he announced that he would be retiring from all Prime Timer duties as of the end of 2019. A short discussion about the accention of the presidency and also who would handle the newsletter.

More discussion on this will be forth coming.

At 1:30 pm, as there were no further old or new business, Dick called for a motion that meeting be adjourned. Rafael made a first and Larry Nelson made a second, all agreed and the meeting was adjourned.

Due to the fact that the Baltimore Chapter president, Ralph Welsh will be visiting our luncheon on the 7th our next Board Meeting will be on Wednesday, August 14th.

TRADE BEER BUST

Charles McDonald: Coordinator

Our 4th Beer Bust at The Trade will be on Saturday, October 19th, 3:00 pm to 7:00 pm.

Volunteers of course are always needed. Probably looking at 5 to 6 for the four hours. Volunteers should plan on staying for the duration of the Beer Bust to receive volunteer credit. A sign-up sheet will be out some time in September.

If you have a Colorado Prime Timer t-shirt, please wear it. Dick has buttons for those not having a t-shirt. If you have a button, please wear it.

Even if you're not volunteering, as a member, you should show some support for the organization, (financially, also!)

Thanks to volunteers on July 21st: Geof Jones, Duwaine Schmidt, Don Herman, Rafael de Jesus, and Dick Moore, They raised $200.00 in cups, $80.00 in tips and Trade added an extra $30.00 for a total of $230.00.

PrideFest: Don Harvey and Larry Nelson

PrideFest: Joe Rotello, John Tyson, and Andy Farr.

The Wednesday After Lunch "Discussion Group"

Every Wednesday after Noon's Luncheon, a group of "intellectuals" called the "Discussion Group" meet from around 1:00 pm til ? at The Trade bar, 475 Santa Fe Drive.

The discussions have a wide range, from local interest to worldwide interest and more. Some can become very deep and meaningful and other just down and out ridiculous.

Everyone participates and all-in-all we have a great time whether the problems of the world are resolved or not.

Of course, some libations such as beer, gin, vodka, scotch or wine is the real motivation to keep these hot and interesting topics moving.

All Prime Timers are certainly welcome along with any friends they might want to drag along.

Remember, every Wednesday. Hope to see some new faces.

Dick Moore, President

Let Me Finish

“END OF AN ERA”

No doubt by now, you members know at the July 7th Board Meeting that I announced that I would be retiring at the end of this year. YEP!!!! ‘Bout time’!

When I was twenty, I felt strong enough to leap tall buildings with a single bound, At thirty, maybe a one story house.

How far back was that? Considering my sore muscles and aching joints, it has to be seventy-five to eighty years ago.

I have been working as president of the Colorado Prime Timers now for about 16 to 17 years, whose counting? Plus I did 1 year as vice president. It’s time for a career move, something not as stressful, or decision making. Maybe weaving hats out of palm fronds on a Tahiti beach, or something that stimulated the mind, like being a door-to-door contraceptive salesman.

So, I will be retiring from all of my present duties. President, Editor of the newsletter, Sunday Brunch, Beer Busts, PrideFest, etc., etc., etc.

A little history here: When I joined the Colorado Prime Timers way back in 2001 after spending 8 years as president of the Denver Recreational Volleyball Association at BJ’s Carousel, I thought joining was going to be so easy. These are older guys, well adjusted, stable and very friendly. I took a sigh of relief to be getting out of having to make decisions, decisions, decisions. A no brainer, right!

John Ballard was president at the time and had been looking for a vice president. Well, guess what! I foolishly came forward as I thought what the heck. Little did I know that John was planning on retiring. Whoa!

The election in 2003 brought me into the presidency for one year. “Easy.” I said to myself. That was not to be the case years later, I found out.

It has been a good run, as they say in show business. There have been ups and there have been downs. But there have mostly been ups. I have met a lot of friends along this road and I have lost a lot of friends also.

I have been ask why and the reason and this reason only, I am tired, and I want time to proceed with some personal projects. If it were just pet peeves, I would have resigned a long time ago.

I have always had a full board of hard working and dedicated thinkers. There is really no magic that is needed to fill this position. When you have had boards that good, you will always be able to rely on them for ideas and know they will continue to volunteer to help you out.

As a member of a chapter, each of us has the duty, at some time, to help out by serving on the board. There are a variety of reasons why it’s sometimes hard to fill that position: terms of service are too long; the board meeting date doesn’t work; I have too much work on my plate now; etc., and so on. But the truth is that adjustments can be made to remedy these issues: by-laws can always be amended to shorten the serving term and dates can be changed.

There have been Presidents who were so loaded down with work that they could not function (only in such cases have they chosen to take on way too many things in a short period of time). For all of those future Presidents out there, the one thing you haven’t considered is that it is fun! Much pleasure and success comes from filling the job and meetings and knowing people; it is a great reward in serving in the position. Some of us even find we’ve become ‘junkies’ and have returned to serve more than once. Your contribution to the organization is a great reward to everyone whose lives you touch and a great reward and accomplishment to fulfilling the richness of your life as well.

Although I may be leaving, it is up to you to determine whether I was successful, I can unequivocally say that helping members of the Colorado Prime Timer chapter has been the most fulfilling and satisfying opportunity of my life.

Thanks to ALL the members; those many volunteers; those many Board members who have so unselfishly made my job as president easy and to make the Colorado Prime Timer chapter what it is today!
