The Dark History Behind Halloween

It's More Chilling Than You Realized!!!

Halloween is the spookiest night of the year and probably the best fun night.

For the gay communities around the world this one special night let's them be out in the public dressed as they want and have the fun they deserve.

Halloween fever isn't contained to the States, either. In fact, people around the world celebrate this night in many different ways.

But where did all these practices come from? Turns out, a lot of these customs date back centuries. The night has changed over time, transforming from an ancient tradition to the flashy and gay fright-fest we know and love today.

The word 'Halloween' was first popularized in a poem by Robert Burns in 1785 of the same name.

It's actually two words smushed together. "Hallow" . . . or holy person . . . refers to the saints celebrated on All Saints' Day, which is November 1. The "een" part of the word is a contraction of "eve" . . . or evening before.

So basically, Halloween is just an old-fashioned way of saying the night before All Saints' Day . . . also called Hallowmas or All Hallows' Day.

It has been linked to Samhain, the Celtic festival of the summer's end celebrated in Ireland, Scotland, and the Isle of Man.

The veil between the Otherworld and our world thins during Samhain, making it easier for spirits and souls of the dead to return.

People would make offerings of food in order to get on the good side of these spirits and departed ancestors.

Halloween has come to be most closely associated with the pumpkin, but apples have played an important role in its history.

The Jack-O' Lanterns symbolize a fateful deal with the devil.

If you ever meet the Devil on a darkened road, don't try to trick him into climbing a tree. Otherwise, you might end up like Irish folk figure Jack O' Lantern.

Modern day, intricately . . . designed pumpkin creations certainly make for impressive decorations. But back in the day, folks in Ireland dubbed their carved, fiery turnips "jack-o'-lanterns" thanks in part to an ominous legend.

One night, a conniving local drunkard named Jack trapped the Prince of Darkness in a tree by hacking a sign of the cross into the bark. In exchange for letting Satan climb down, Jack had him vow to never claim his soul.

Jack proceeded to act like a jerk his whole life. When he died, he sure as heck was not allowed in heaven. So he tried to return to his old pal, the Devil. But Satan upheld his end of the deal, hurling a piece of coal from hell at the dead man, for good measure.

Left without anywhere to go, Jack placed the blazing coal in a turnip to use as a lantern. The dead man then set out, doomed to wander until he can find an eternal resting place.

Trick-or-Treating has ancient precedent . . . but the candy part didn't come about until much later.

Modern day trick-or-treating is a confluence of various traditions. Ancient Celts dressed up as evil spirits in order to confuse demons.

In medieval England, "soulers" would go around begging rich folks for "soul cakes" on Halloween. Instead of threatening to play tricks, however, they'd pray for peoples' souls in return for the cake.

Throughout medieval Europe, mummering . . . dressing in disguises and visiting neighborhoods while dancing, playing music, and doing tricks . . . was popular on major feast days.

Irish and Scottish immigrants brought "souling" to the States in the 1800s. But modern day trick-or-treating didn't catch on in the US till the 1920s.

The practice was pretty controversial into the 1950s, though. According to the American Journal of Plays, "gangsters, pranksters, and invention of Trick-or-Treating," many adults raised "stern objections" to trick-or-treating over decades, as it was often viewed as a form of extortion.

Just remember, what ever you do this unholy night, Jack and the Devil in that tree. Have fun and please be careful!!!!

OVER-EASY BREAKFAST

Jim Mickel: Reporter-At-Large

The magic number, 11, on September 14th. Seems this is it for all of our September activities. For this breakfast we drove to Golden at The Table Mountain Inn.

Most enjoyed their meal. Not me. Ordered a Denver Omelet, which I have had at other restaurants but this one had no taste and the green chili was tasteless as well. Can't win them all.

It was our congenial breakfast group along with visitors from Australia, Mark Haury, Claude Holland and Mario Panzarino who has been flying all around the world.

What a great way to start any day, a breakfast with friends, don't think it can get any better than that.

Thank you, Darrel for all you do each month to keep us Prime Timers happy. We look forward to the October breakfast at Mimi's out west Colfax.

HAND, KNEE, FOOT CARDS

Jim Mickel: Reporter-At-Large

Once again, 11 showed up at the home of Ron Gloekler on September 9th.

We had plenty of goodies to enjoy. Mario Panzarino made a mint fratatta, there were some small sandwiches, two different types of wraps that Ron made and only one cookie choice. Unusual.

A delightful afternoon and didn't leave until almost 5:00 pm. We try to start at noon to miss rush hour traffic but sometimes it doesn't work. No matter it was a great group and makes for a pleasant afternoon no matter what we are doing.

Look forward to our next gathering at Al Grinestaff's home in Lakewood.

NIGHT ON THE TOWN

September 3rd found, yeah, 11 Prime Timers at the Bent Fork Restaurant in Aurora for Night On The Town.

A smaller type restaurant, no music, no loud noises, a really delightful atmosphere. Had a great menu to choose from as well, which we all enjoyed.

Driving wasn't too much of a hassle. West on I-70 to I-225 to Iliff right to the restaurant.

Coming home right through the city, no traffic to worry about.

Thank you, Chef Charles for finding another great winning restaurant.

Hope to see more Prime Timers in November at the Golden Shanghai Restaurant on November 5th.

MINUTES OF THE AUGUST 7th BOARD MEETING

The meeting was called to order at 12:30 pm by president Dick Moore.

There were no visitors present.

Present were; Dick Moore, president; Rafael De Jesus, vice president; Toby Davis, Secretary; Larry Nelson, Treasurer; Larry Jeffries, Membership Director; and Charles McDonald, Special Events Director.

OLD BUSINESS

The minutes of the July meeting having been sent out ahead of time, discussed. No discussion and the motion to accept made by Charles McDonald and a second was made by Larry Jeffries. The minutes were accepted unanimously.

The August treasurer's report was made by Larry Nelson, treasurer. (see page 2)

A motion was made to accept the report after a short discussion by vice president Rafael De Jesus and a second was made by Charles McDonald, secretary and was accepted unanimously.

Larry Jeffries, Membership Director gave an update to our membership as of the end of August. We are carrying 164 members at this time and the September dues have started to come in. Charles made a first and Toby second and passed unanimously.

Vice president, Rafael De Jesus had no report nor comments at this time.

NEW BUSINESS

The luncheon attendance were announced by Dick Moore. The August total attendance at the Wednesday luncheon was 184. (Nice job, Prime Timers).

The main topic for the meeting was once again about the Colorado Prime Timer's PrideFest booth. And once again it was tabled for further discussion until after a meeting about our social media and the October meeting. Dick was hopeful this will finally be put to rest one way or another.

Toby Davis, secretary, announced he will no longer be able to continue as secretary as his business has begun to grow and his time to devote to the job of secretary is no longer possible.

Charles McDonald reported on the Annual Picnic saying it was a great success. He also mentioned up coming activities such as our Beer Busts at The Trade and the Annual Christmas Party coming in December.

Since Christmas falls on Wednesday this year, it was decided to do a free lunch for all members (guests pay the $9.23) on Christmas day instead of on the Wednesday before Thanksgiving. Motion was made by Rafael and Charles a second and passed unanimously.

With no further business or discussions, Charles made a motion and Larry J. made a second to adjourn and was unanimously agreed upon.

The next Board Meeting will be on Wednesday, October 2, 2019.

LOVERS OF MODENA

Skeletons holding hands were both men!

Researchers have found that a couple of skeletons known as the Lovers of Modena, because they are holding hands, were both men.

The researchers could not determine the sex of the skeletons when they were found in Italy in 2009 because they were badly preserved. But a new technique, using the protein on tooth enamel, revealed their sex. The actual relationship between the skeletons from the 4-6th Century AD remains a mystery. The researchers say the two adult males were intentionally buried hand-in-hand.

Some of the suggestions for the link between the two skeletons are that they are siblings, cousins or soldiers who died together in battle, study author Federico Lugli told Italy's Rai news site.

Researchers suggest that their burial site could have been a war cemetery.

The researchers from Italy's University of Bologna said in Scientific Reports that the findings had profound implications for understanding funeral practices at that time in Italy.

A great turnout for our Wednesday, September 11th luncheon. 59 Prime Timers including visitors enjoyed the camaraderie and great food at the Golden Corral.

Colorado Prime Timer's Vice President, Rafael De Jesus, Mark Hatten, President of the Dallas-Ft Worth chapter and member of the Worldwide Board, and Colorado Prime Timer's President, Dick Moore at the September 18th luncheon.

Our visiting Prime Timers from Chicago were Joe and George. It's always nice to have visitors from out-of-town. Sorry for the senior moment but the editor doesn't know their last names.

LET ME FINISH. . .

SPRING FORWARD, FALL BACK

This October issue celebrates one of my absolute favorite times of the year. Like sleepy-eyed critters, the leaves begin to turn their wonderful colors of fall. Midwesterners like me are ready to get back into the great feeling of Indian Summer here in the Rockies. The weather is still delightful for cookouts, tackling home projects, and simply experiencing the great outdoors, such as our annual picnic. One of the great fun things the Colorado Prime Timers experience is the annual picnic. If you know the feeling, you've come to the right place, the Colorado Prime Timers.

Our coordinators have planned fun things, such as Over-Easy Breakfast, Night on the Town dinner, and some new activities coming up such as getting out in this great weather and doing a little hiking, also an afternoon for Matinee at the Movies with some great films coming up. As you know, one of the reasons I love the Denver area and the Colorado Prime Timers, is because of the great ever-changing activities.

Speaking of favorites, I ask each one of you to check your Newsletter for those activities. I thoroughly enjoy a lot of the outings. Who knows, maybe you'll really like it as much as I do. I encourage all of you to take advantage of these activities. It's a lot of fun being with your fellow Prime Timers.

I am very proud and blessed to be able to take in these special activities. Hats off to all the coordinators for doing such a great job during the summer and for the fun things they have planned for the fall. I am truly convinced that there is no better place for us Prime Timers to be than a member of the Colorado Prime Timers chapter. I hope the Colorado Prime Times Newsletter has inspired you to seek out some of these fun times. Don't try to do all of them, which is impossible. You will either end up in a rest home or you will be bankrupt or maybe both. Just pick and choose the ones you think you would like to do the most and have fun sharing the time with your friends. This is specifically the reason the Colorado Prime Timers has these great activities for all of its members.

Just a few reminders of upcoming activities:

The Nooners Luncheon at the Golden Corral every Wednesday of course. What a way to meet new people and have conversations with friends and enjoy good food at the same time. A fun 4 hours at our next Beer Bust at the Trade, Saturday, October 19th, and a special free Christmas luncheon, Wednesday, December 25th at the Golden Corral for all members, and don't forget our great Annual Christmas Party, Saturday, December 14th.

Let's see some new faces out there.

See you next month and don't let the goblins get you.

SPECIAL NOTICE HELP WANTED

Toby Davis, secretary, has resigned that position due to the success of his business.

We are now seeking a new secretary to replace him. The sooner the better, like the next Board Meeting, October, 2, 2019.

Also, just a reminder, that president Dick Moore will be retiring from the duties as president and also the duties of editor of the monthly newsletter at the end of the year.

This is an important job and hopefully the position can be filled before the end of the year.

Any questions regarding these two positions please contact Dick Moore at 720.447.5924 or a email will work at operaghost198838@yahoo.com.

Both position are very important to the functioning of the Colorado Prime Timers.

One last thought, nominations for the White Buffalo Award will take place in October with the final voting by the first of November.
